Man watched 'vile' child sex abuse via global streaming

By Adam Flinn

A MAN who watched a four-year-old girl being sexually abused online as it was streamed live to a global audience has avoided prison.

Gareth Gascoigne-Leopold, of Rectory Lane in Tadley, was given a five year prison sentence, suspended for two years, at Lewes Crown Court on Friday.

The 35-year-old was one of six people from the UK to watch the abuse in December 2015, broadcast via an online video streaming forum.

He was also given a 10-year sexual harm prevention order, and ordered to attend a rehabilitation course and get internet sex offender's treatment.

The girl, who is from Denmark, has since been identified and is being safeguarded by the authorities.

Sentencing, judge Recorder Swirsky told Gascoigne-Leopold the "images you watched were vile and the children involved are likely to be scarred for life".

Gascoigne-Leopold's arrest is part of a wider investigation being carried out by the National Crime Agency (NCA) into the streaming of child sexual abuse.

He was arrested at Gatwick airport having travelled back from Spain in December 2016, and charged with four offences on July 4 this year.

These were intentionally encouraging and/or assisting the commission of an offence, possessing an extreme pornographic image, possessing an indecent photograph/pseudo-photograph, and possessing a prohibited image of a child.

Graham Ellis, from the NCA's child exploitation and online protection command, said: "The abuse this little girl suffered was unimaginable. That it was also streamed live around the world makes it even more horrific.

"The individuals who were logged into the forum to watch this abuse thought they would remain anonymous, but they thought wrong - there is no hiding place.

"Using all the powers and means available to us, we will identify and locate those who seek to exploit children for their own sexual pleasure and bring them to justice."

The other five people from the UK identified at the same time as Gascoigne-Leopold have all been arrested, and are at various stages of the justice system.

New name in charge of county's fire service

HAMPSHIRE Fire and Rescue Service has appointed a new chief fire officer to take over the running of the service from the start of next year.

Neil Odin will assume control on January 1, following the retirement of current chief Dave Curry.

Mr Odin, 44, has been Hampshire's assistant chief since 2012, and previously worked at West Sussex Fire and Rescue Service for more than 20 years.

He said: "I am delighted to be taking on the role of chief fire officer for Hampshire.

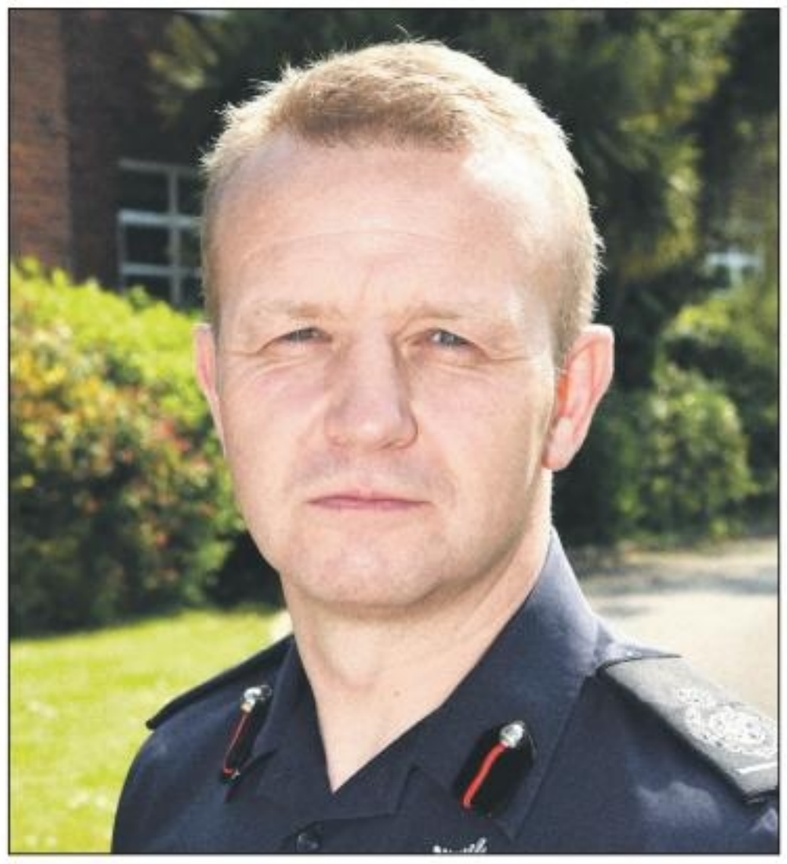
"It is a position that I know carries great responsibility, as our service strives to make life safer for every resident.

"There is no doubt I take on the job at a time of great change in the fire service, but I am looking forward immensely to the challenge of ensuring we continue to supply an exemplary service to our communities and to leading such a great organisation."

The transition process will now take place over the next few months.

Chris Carter, chairman of the Hampshire Fire and Rescue Authority, said: "I am very much looking forward to working with Neil when he formally takes up the appointment in January.

"Being at the helm of one of the best and most progressive services in the country is a huge responsibility and in Neil we have the right person to lead the service forward."



Neil Odin has been chosen to be Hampshire's next chief fire officer

Campaign aims to stop inconsiderate parking

By Adam Flinn

INCONSIDERATE drivers who park badly are being targeted in a new safety campaign being run by Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council and Hampshire Constabulary.

'Think before you park' has been set up to tackle the issue of parked cars blocking routes for emergency vehicles, as well as parking on pavements that forces people to walk onto the road.

It aims to educate drivers about the dangers poor parking can cause, with leaflets being left on windscreens which highlight how people could be being put at risk.

Vehicles which are causing an immediate danger will be reported to police as usual, while parking officers will issue fines where they have the power to do so.

Simon Bound, the council's cabinet member for community safety, said: "We're working hard to alert residents to the potential dangers of poor parking, such as reducing visibility at junctions and the impact on the safety of schoolchildren.

"We've heard from lots of residents who are frustrated at the poor parking of others, but the powers we have to take action are limited."

He continued: "It's important that everyone takes the time to pause before they park, and to think about whether they could be causing problems for pedestrians, or blocking access for ambulances and bin crews."

The campaign follows a rise in the number of residents contacting the council about inconsiderate parking.

Posters and social media will also be utilised in the campaign.

Sergeant Trevor Taylor, of the Basingstoke neighbourhood policing team, said: "We are fully aware that inconsiderate parking can be a real source of frustration for people trying to go about their daily business.

"We also know that parking disputes can sometimes lead to more serious offences, such as criminal damage and public order.

"While we will take action where appropriate, the answer is not to criminalise everyone but to work with our partners to remind people to think before they park."

M3 boy charged

HAMPSHIRE: A 17-year-old boy has been charged following last month's 11 hour closure of the M3 at Winchester.

Motorists were left stuck after the road was shut by police on September 23 when they discovered a "potentially hazardous" substance on the road near St Catherine's Hill.

The boy was charged on Saturday with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life, and two counts of causing danger to road users.

The charges also relate to a similar incident at the same spot the previous Saturday.

He appeared at Basingstoke Youth Court on Monday, with another hearing scheduled at Winchester Crown Court on Wednesday.

Runners pound the streets to raise funds for charities

By Adam Flinn

MORE than 1,200 runners pounded the streets of north Hampshire as they took part in the Basingstoke Half Marathon on Sunday.

Spectators cheered on those taking part in the 13-mile race, which started in Hackwood Road before heading out into the countryside through Clidesden, Ellisfield and Farleigh Wallop.

Runners had numerous charities and good causes they were raising money for, with organisers collecting for St Michael's Hospice and Macmillan Cancer Support in particular.

Felicity Edwards, from race organisers Destination Basingstoke, said: "It was a fantastic day, a great atmosphere.

"The race brings together the whole community - our businesses with their sponsorship and corporate teams, the running clubs, the charities.

"And of course the residents that put up with road closures and get into the spirit of the race by cheering everyone on."

A big team of volunteers from St Michael's Hospice, Basingstoke's Brownie and Guide groups, rotary clubs, running clubs and other individuals made sure the race went off without a hitch.

Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust has said that 15 per cent of patients who visited the emergency departments at Basingstoke and Winchester hospitals could have been treated by their GP.

The trust is asking residents to call the NHS's 111 phoneline if they are unsure which service they should use, or 999 in an emergency.

Have your say on timetable changes

A CONSULTATION on plans to introduce more trains at peak times, earlier and later trains and more Sunday services has been launched by South Western Railway.

Commuters are being urged to have their say on proposed changes to timetables that will come into effect from December 2018.

Among the suggested changes that would affect Basingstoke are trains every 30 minutes into Waterloo from 1pm on Sundays, to match the Saturday frequency and stopping pattern.

The last direct train from Waterloo to Alton on weekdays would also depart 35 minutes later at 11.58pm.

Andy Mellors, managing director for South Western Railway, said: "Our network includes some of the busiest routes and stations in Europe and it is therefore crucial that our timetable optimises use of the infrastructure we have available.

"At the same time, we really want to encourage as much feedback as possible on our proposals so that we can implement a timetable that truly meets the requirements of our passengers and the communities we serve."

'Meet the December 2018 timetable team' sessions will also be held at stations over the coming weeks to answer any questions people may have.

The consultation is running until December 22. Go to southwesternrailway.com/timetableconsultation to take part.

Having a ball for Ark

MORE than £22,000 has been raised from a Basingstoke law firm's black-tie ball to put towards Ark Cancer Centre Charity's fundraising campaign.

Clarke & Son Solicitors held its charity ball last month as the culmination of three years worth of efforts to raise money for Ark.

Comedian Adger Brown, magician Andy Reay and live music from Boom Town entertained guests, who dug deep to support a live and silent auction on the night.

Darren Lovegrove, marketing manager at Clarke & Son, said: "After six months of planning, everyone at Clarke & Son is delighted that the charity ball was such a success and that everyone had a great time.

"The money that was raised will be match-funded by Greenham Common Trust, and this means that the ball will have resulted in a £22,500 donation, which is fantastic."

Ark is raising £5million to build a new cancer treatment centre near Basingstoke.

The total raised so far has now reached £1.6m.

Mark Jones, director of fundraising and communications for Ark, said: "The support from the Clarke & Son team has been absolutely amazing."

Workers vote for train strikes

By Adam Flinn

WORKERS at South Western Railway have voted to strike following a dispute over the future use of guards on the service.

More than 80 per cent of those who voted in trade union RMT's ballot opted for industrial action after the union claimed that franchise holder First MTR had not given "cast-iron assurances" over the future of guards on their trains.

No dates for strike action have so far been announced.

RMT is currently in a similar dispute with Southern Rail, which has seen thousands of passengers affected as train services have been cancelled.

The argument with South Western Railway, says RMT, is that they haven't been given a "water-tight pledge" regarding guards' services.

Mick Cash, general secretary of RMT, said: "RMT has given repeated opportunities for First MTR to give us the assurances we have sought over the future role of the guards on their trains throughout the length of the new South Western franchise.

"They have refused to give us those guarantees and it is that failure which left RMT with no option but to declare a formal dispute with the company and to conduct a ballot for action.

"Our members have now voted overwhelmingly for both strike action and action short of a strike and that massive mandate will now be considered by RMT's executive who will decide the next steps.

"This dispute can be easily resolved if the company is prepared to stick to existing agreements and give staff and passengers alike a guarantee of a second, safety-critical member of staff on all current services."

RMT has said it remains available for talks with First MTR, and a meeting has already been arranged for today.

A statement from South Western Railway said: "We are disappointed that some of our staff have chosen to vote for industrial action.

"We have been clear that we plan to retain a second person on our services, as we know that our passengers value the assurance and assistance a second member of on-board staff provides.

"None of us want to be in this position and any potential action will cause unnecessary disruption for the customers we serve."

Flashmob to star in parade

A FLASHMOB dance will form part of the celebrations for this year's Day of the Dead festival in Basingstoke.

The extravaganza returns to Top of the Town on Friday, October 27, featuring Mariachi musicians, fire breathers and illusionists before concluding with the colourful parade.

And it is in the parade that the flashmob performance will feature, starring members of local dance schools.

Borough council deputy leader Terri Reid, who leads the town centre programme, said: "The return of the town's popular Day of the Dead event promises to be even more fun this year. There will be music, dance, colour and creativity for people of all ages to enjoy - and don't forget to join in with the flashmob dance!"

The festival, organised by the Proteus Theatre Company, is inspired by its Mexican origins.

Chief executive Mary Swan said: "Day of the Dead is a unique event and has been embraced and shaped over the past three years by the people of Basingstoke. Last year we saw people coming for the parade in their own costumes and we'd love everyone to get involved like that this year."

Decision due on 'glampsite'

By Adam Flinn

GLAMPING could be coming to the Basingstoke and Deane countryside, depending on the outcome of last night's development control committee.

Councillors had been recommended to approve plans to build a new glamping site at Browning Hill Green, near Tadley.

It would contain six 'glamping pods' or living vans, which would provide overnight accommodation for two adults in each one, as well as a separate house for a site manager.

The application was called in to the borough council's development control committee following a number of objections, including its location on a blind bend in Church Road, its impact on the rural setting, and the possibility of it being further developed in the future.

Baughurst and Tadley North councillor Robert Tate said: "This application has generated significant public concern in the ward.

"I believe that this proposal should be objected to on grounds of change of land use, development outside settlement boundaries, change of visual amenity, highway issues and sustainability."

Glamping means 'glamorous camping', and offers a more luxurious place to sleep than a tent while keeping the campsite setting.

Alongside 34 letters of objection from the public to the application, there were also five in support of the plans.

These praised the application for bringing a different type of tourism to the area, and the opportunities it could create for local businesses.

An example of a typical 'glamping pod'

A statement from planning agent DGG Planning said: "The use of this land as a glamping site would provide a peaceful and relaxing environment in which visitors can use the pods or living vans.

"The pods, amenity cabin and site managers' accommodation are all moveable and as such would be placed on to the site.

"Whilst it is considered that the glampsite would prove a viable rural business, if it was not shown to be viable after three years, they could all easily be removed with minimal impact on their setting."

Inquiry to look at tackling age discrimination

BASINGSTOKE'S MP Maria Miller is calling for more to be done to tackle issues for older people in the workplace, including age discrimination.

The government's women and equalities committee - which Mrs Miller chairs - is relaunching an inquiry into older people and employment.

Individuals, charities and other organisations are being asked to submit evidence to the inquiry on age discrimination issues they have faced or been made aware of.

Mrs Miller said: "The problems facing older people at work rarely make the headlines, yet last year nearly 10 million people over 50 were in work.

"Helping people over 50 to tackle age discrimination is good for the economy, for employers, and for individual employees.

"The government recognises the problems facing over 50s but will its strategy and plans make any difference?

"Using the evidence we gather, our inquiry will consider progress so far, the things that stop change, what works, and what more needs to be done."

Further details including how to send submissions to the inquiry can be found at tinyurl.com/yc6ksdr5.

Hart consultation

HART: Residents in Hart are being asked to give their thoughts on what should be the district council's priorities for the next five years.

The draft Hart Corporate Plan sets out four key aims, relating to the local economy, the environment, health, and becoming a more efficient and effective council.

To take part in the consultation, go to hart.gov.uk/corporate-plan-consultation-2017. It ends on October 31.

Boost for centre

BASINGSTOKE: Improvements are being made to Basingstoke's wellbeing centre to make it easier for people to access mental health support.

The centre, in Vyne Road, will open for longer during evenings and weekends, while specialist staff will be brought together within the centre.

It is part of an £8million contract funded by Hampshire County Council and the NHS covering all 11 wellbeing centres in Hampshire.

Liz Fairhurst, the council's executive member for health, said: "Our plans for the wellbeing centres will make it much easier for people to access support in their local community as they will be able to drop into their nearest centre."

Hospital open day proves to be a hit

By Adam Flinn

HUNDREDS of people had a sneak peak at the inner workings of Basingstoke's hospital on Saturday.

Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT) welcomed 800 visitors for its open day, where they had the chance to find out more about how the hospital operates.

Those in attendance had the chance to try out surgical equipment, look around the radiology department, and speak with experts.

Injured teddy bears and dolls were also patched up in the plaster room.

There was also a wide range of interactive displays highlighting different work done in the hospital, as well as a jobs fair and tea and cake.

The day was officially opened by Basingstoke MP Maria Miller, town mayor Paul Frankum and HHFT chairman Liz Padmore.

Ms Padmore said: "There was a real buzz around the hospital and plenty of attractions to keep the whole family entertained.

"Everyone seemed to enjoy the opportunity to take a look behind the scenes, speak to some of our experts and learn about the great work that goes on in the trust.

"The passion of our staff for all they do really shone through and I'm extremely grateful to all of the staff who gave up their own time to make the open day possible.

"It was a fantastic day and I'd like to thank everyone who came along and supported the event."

Approval for neighbourhood plans

NEIGHBOURHOOD plans for four Basingstoke and Deane villages have been officially approved by the district's mayor Paul Frankum.

A special reception was held last month to mark the adoption of the plans for Sherborne St John, Oakley, Overton and Bramley by the borough council.

The plans have been put together by parish councils and neighbourhood groups to advise how land in the villages should be developed, and are used by the borough council to help determine planning applications.

Cllr Frankum said: "I applaud the hard work that has been undertaken over recent years by the local communities in order to get their plans accepted.

"Neighbourhood planning allows local people to have a real input into decisions about the future development of their communities and ensures that their needs are met."

Residents in the four villages were given a vote on whether the neighbourhood plans should be put forward.

Work on plans for Whitchurch, St Mary Bourne and Sherfield-on-Loddon are currently under way.

Oregon training helps county's firefighters deal with wildfires

FIREFIGHTERS from Hampshire have been learning from their counterparts in Oregon about how to tackle wildfires.

Twelve firefighters have made the trip to America as part of an ongoing relationship between the two services to improve skills and learn new tactics.

As part of the training the firefighters have worked alongside forestry workers and emergency services which are dedicated to the task of tackling wildfires.

Dave Hodge, Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service's lead on wildfires, has been coordinating the Oregon visits.

He said: "We aim to be the best. You can't do that by staying within your borders.

"Their approach to wildfires is that you can't prevent all of them so you have to prepare for them – the focus is on resilience.

"The area that we visit calls itself a 'fire-adapted community' where they accept that wildfires are a part of their lives so everyone has to be prepared.

"The value of this hands-on experience and the new skills you learn cannot be replicated by reading a manual."

Roy Ford with one of the ReSPECT forms

New process will help respect care decisions

By Adam Flinn

A NEW procedure has been introduced at Basingstoke's hospital which lets people have a say in the level of care they receive in an emergency in advance.

The ReSPECT process sees a person and their health professionals draw up a plan covering which treatments they may or may not want.

This is put onto a ReSPECT form, which the person keeps with them so in the event of an emergency decisions on care and treatment can be made quickly.

The idea was praised by Alton resident Roy Ford, who has first-hand experience of the difference considering your options in advance can make following the death of his wife Janet earlier this year.

Janet had been diagnosed with liver and pancreatic cancer and found herself unable to move.

However the ambulance crew made the decision for Janet to stay at home so she could spend her final days there, and she passed away a week later.

Roy said: "We had never talked much about what we might like to have happen at the end of our lives.

"It was luck and compassion that meant the ambulance crew made the decision for Janet to stay at home.

"Had Janet thought about this in advance, I know that this is what she would have wanted."

Anyone can start the ReSPECT process, but it is likely to be particularly relevant for people with complex health needs or nearing the end of their lives.

Alex Whitfield, chief executive of Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, said: "ReSPECT will help to ensure that patients receive the treatment that is right for them and make it easier for healthcare professionals to make the most appropriate decisions."

Road safety session for older drivers

OLDER drivers in Basingstoke are being offered advice to help them continue to be safe on the roads or decide when they should stop.

Hampshire Constabulary's Older Drivers Forum is being held in Festival Place today to give advice on road safety, the consequences of not being fit to drive and alternatives to using a car.

There are currently almost five million people in the UK aged 70 and over driving, with Hampshire having the highest number outside of London.

Chair of the forum, Sergeant Rob Heard, said: "The key message is about not becoming complacent about our driving.

"We know many older drivers have a wealth of experience, confidence and tolerance, however as we get older our sight, hearing, reaction times and judgement of speed and distance may not be as sharp as it once was.

"Our advice is don't wait until you have a near miss or an accident to convince you to review your driving ability. Instead, take preventative measures by planning ahead, and seeking advice and support early."

The session in Festival Place is running from 9.30am to 3pm, and is free to attend. More details can be found at olderdriversforum.com.

There was a big turnout to mark the church's 100th anniversary last month

100 years of All Saints

By Adam Flinn

PARISHIONERS and the Bishop of Basingstoke gathered to mark the 100th anniversary of the town's All Saints Church.

Celebrations were held last month to mark 100 years since the church, in Southern Road, was finally completed in September 1917.

This included a Eucharist of Thanksgiving, where Basingstoke's bishop David Williams joined in and cut the cake.

He said: "It was a pleasure to be part of All Saints centenary celebrations, and an honour to lead the congregation in worship.

"The church of All Saints is a beautiful, peaceful and inspiring place and has been at the heart of the local community throughout its history.

"The congregation here ensures that the church is a place of true Christian welcome."

The church was built during the First World War, with its construction being hit by delays as a result.

As many young men had joined the war effort, the church was built by stonemasons who were too old to be called up.

The Eucharist also included a talk on the history of the church by historian Debbie Reavell, and an exhibition of copies of drawings and plans of the building.

All Saints' vicar Rev Rosalind Rutherford said: "I'm very pleased that Bishop David was able to join with us in celebration of this significant occasion.

Bishop David prepares to cut the cake with Rev Ros Rutherford

"The dedication of a new church in 1917, in the midst of a campaign which resulted in about a quarter of a million casualties on each side, was certainly a sign of Christian hope.

"In the same way, as we celebrate the centenary of All Saints and the people who have created the community here, we continue to find joy and hope in the midst of an unpredictable and violent world through our Christian faith."

In total 26,638 youngsters aged four to 11 took part in the challenge to read six books borrowed from Hampshire's libraries over two months.

Downsizing – what to do with the equity released?

By Romans Group

Our experience shows that those who are reluctant to downsize often change their minds when they realise just how much equity is tied up in their home or how much flexibility and freedom it can provide.

Romans Managing Director of Residential Sales, Antony Gibson explains: "Many last time buyers are surprised by just how much their property has increased in value. With many properties around the South East currently making more in terms of capital growth than the average wage, we are seeing a flock of movement from the over 50's."

Upgrade your home

Particularly for those who have been in their property for a long time, moving into a new home provides an excellent opportunity to upgrade. Just because your new home is smaller doesn't mean it has to also decline in luxury.

With fewer rooms, a slightly smaller garden and one garage rather than two, it's surprising how much time and money you'll save.

Plan for your future

Many last time buyers have the majority of their money tied up in their property. The extra equity released from downsizing could supplement your retirement income and go towards holidays of a life.

Less space, means less housework and more spare time!

With fewer rooms, a slightly smaller garden and one garage rather than two, it's surprising how much time and money you'll save. With fewer rooms and less outdoor space, cleaning and gardening chores will also be reduced.

If this has piqued your interest in downsizing, contact us for a free, no-obligation property valuation online or call Romans on 01344 985 666.

With their immaculate appearance, synchronised dance moves and clean, pure melodic sound, The Bootleg Shadows aim to give off the true 'Shadow' vibe to fans around the UK, taking them back in time the 60s, 70s and 80s.

The tribute act have been entertaining audiences for the past 10 years. The band is made up of Geoff Bearpark taking lead guitar and backing vocals, Keith Smith on rhythm guitar and lead vocals, Tony Cole on bass and backing vocals, along with Tim Jackson on the drums and Tony "Binks" Bayliss on keyboards.

Can they defeat the dastardly duck?

By Josh Cox

COLOURFUL characters, amusing puppetry and catchy songs make AnimAlphabet the perfect family show.

The fun, fast-paced story is set on Treble Clef Island, a wonderful land of music, song and dance – but there's a problem. Calando the dastardly Duck has escaped and is threatening to steal sound forever.

Join Colin the Cockatoo on a quest to find the island animals and thwart Calando's plans once and for all.

A waltzing elephant, a reggae frog and a Geordie jazz giraffe are just some of the zany, musical-misfits Colin meets along the way.

With the exception of Brad Clapson who portrays the protagonist Colin, the entire cast play dual (and sometimes triple) roles.

Actress Rebecca Ayres plays the adorable elephant, as well as the scaly and diva-like crocodile. Ishia Osborne is the donkey and reggae frog characters, and Jake Addley, with multiple costume changes throughout the show takes on the bear, the funky Geordie giraffe and the antagonist duck, Calando.

Not forgetting Kerry Ingram, the Olivier Award-winning actress who played Matilda in Matilda, who opens the show with MetroGnome, fills in with the various puppetry roles and regular set changes and returns to the role of MetroGnome for the inevitable happy ending.

With themes of adventure, friendship and respect, the exciting production featuring songs written by Al Sharland and Sam Swallow of The Hoosiers, is aimed at children from two to 11.

AnimAlphabet is supported by Arts Council England. The show began just over a year ago and since then has toured the UK and been a favourite with critics.

Tickets for AnimAlphabet at The Haymarket on Sunday at 2pm are £10 which includes £2 booking fee.

For more information or to book tickets, call the Anvil Arts box office on 01256 844244, or visit the website: anvilarts.org.uk.

Volkswagen California Ocean 2.0TDi 4Motion 204PS DSG

Ocean is worth every penny of £54k

By Tony Yates

I WAS loaned a Volkswagen California Ocean for a family summer holiday a few weeks ago – and I took the opportunity to test it's ability of sleeping four adults in what some say is comfort camping.

Now, I know camping is not for everyone and up to a few years ago, I felt the same, but then I bought an old Peugeot campervan which was rubbish – but it did it's job of keeping my family dry as we camped in Wales.

Of course, it was old and I only paid £500 for it and it had 120k miles on the clock – but we loved it.

So, when the Ocean arrived with it's shiny blue paint and modern lines, we were very excited indeed.

I will give you a brief rundown on some of the kit you can expect to find inside a modern version of the California. It starts with a DAB Radio with five inch touchscreen and eight speakers, two-seater bench/bed foldable into a bed for two persons, roof berth for additional sleeping, 42litre cool box, camping table and two chairs, electric hook up, fresh water tank, gas storage compartment, kitchen units, 12v and 230v sockets, two 72Ah auxiliary batteries and a waste water storage tank.

The Ocean version of the California is fitted with a 2.0 litre TDI turbocharged 16v diesel engine with DPF – and an excellent seven-speed DSG gearbox, which is stunning even when it was weighted down with all our equipment.

The engine pulls really well thanks to 204PS on tap and 450Nm of torque. Remember on it's own the Ocean weighs in at 3080(kg) which you would assume would have a massive impact on fuel economy – but you would be wrong, as it returns a healthy 42mpg even when you are up and down the many hills in and around Lake Windermere and Coniston.

Standard equipment that underpins the Ocean comes in the form of 4MOTION all wheel drive, ABD, BAS & EBD. Along with traction control (TCS & EDL) & ESP. Plus, airbags for the driver and front passenger with head/side airbags, remote central locking, side scan and lane assist is also fitted so the safety aspect is perfect.

On the inside you get automatic climate control, heated front seats, electric windows, blinds for side windows plus so much more additional equipment that I would need another 600 words just to cover that part off. As I don't have that kind of space, you will have to make do with me finishing off with a short run down on what I think of the VW California Ocean.

If you are a couple or a family with two children, then the Ocean is perfect for getting you away with the minimal of fuss – thanks mainly to it pretty much having everything you will ever need, including the kitchen sink. Also, the fact that you can sleep four people in perfect comfort is utterly amazing.

Things we liked; we liked the electric roof system that raised and lowered and the additional sleeping space. My children also told me it was 'very cool to be sleeping in the roof' and I loved spending some time in there myself reading to them.

•You can sleep four people in perfect comfort in the VW Ocean

As for myself - I like that the Ocean comes already equipped with electric hook up which minimises all the fumbling around in the dark trying to find the right connector. I also liked that everything you will ever need is there to hand with little fuss. Plus if it does rain all week, you have the ability to wind out an awning on the side.

The Ocean did us proud and kept my family safe and warm. But you might be a little surprised by the price.

Prices for the model I had on test starts at around £54,678.

To sum up; Yes, the high price could be a big problem but in my eyes it's worth every penny.

I promise that you won't regret a single minute of it.

DVLA
Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

ALSO BREAKING 500 CARS ALL PARTS AVAILABLE

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk.motoring

More of the same from Bison

By Adam Flinn

IT was a familiar story for Basingstoke Bison as once again they picked up a win and a defeat in their two games over the weekend.

A surprise 5-2 defeat at home to Bracknell Bees on Saturday was followed up with a 2-0 win away at Sheffield Steeldogs on Sunday.

Both were cup games, with Saturday's being a National Cup fixture.

The competition has not been kind to Bison this season, having only recorded one win in their five games to sit bottom of group D on two points.

A busy first period ended goalless, despite Bison having some opportunities on the powerplay.

However it was Bison who did manage to score first on 28:59 as Kurt Reynolds fed Aaron Connolly to break behind the defence and slide the puck past Alex Mettam for the opening goal.

The lead didn't last long though as Steven Osman got the puck between Dean Skinns' legs to get the Bees level.

And they moved in front a minute later as Jan Bendik fired home.

The final period didn't get any better for Bison, as first Shaun Thompson scored and then Frantisek Bakrlik added two more to give them a four-goal advantage.

Ryan Sutton pulled one back for Bison in the final minute while they had a two-man advantage, but it was nonetheless a disappointing defeat for the Herd.

Things went better on Sunday though as Bison secured a 2-0 win at Sheffield in the Autumn Cup.

Once again there weren't any goals in the first period, but Vanya Antronov netted a shorthanded goal on 26:44 to give the visitors the lead.

They kept hold of their narrow advantage until the final three minutes, when Bison were finally able to put the tie to bed as Dan Scott scored their second.

Bison will play their first National Ice Hockey League Division 1 game since September 9 on Saturday when they take on London Raiders at home.

They follow that up with another league fixture on Sunday, away to Invicta Dynamos.

Ramifications of Silverstone cause Collard to miss BTCC season finale

TWO weeks on from his huge shunt at Silverstone, Rob Collard was forced to pull out from Sunday's British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) finale at Brands Hatch on medical grounds.

The north Hampshire racer withdrew ahead of qualifying on Saturday, having taken part in the practice sessions.

He stayed on to cheer Team BMW to the teams' and constructors' titles on Sunday however, on what was his 49th birthday.

And despite ultimately missing the final five rounds of the season, Collard hung on to secure fifth place in the drivers' standings with a final tally of 256 points.

He said: "It's a real shame I wasn't able to race this weekend, but I'm proud to have played my part in the teams' and manufacturers' championship wins for the second year in a row.

"I've had seven podiums and a win earlier in the season and I'm pleased with this.

"To finish fifth in the points even after missing the last five races shows how competitive we've been across the year.

"The BMW has been an excellent car at all circuits and two titles is what the whole team deserves."

Ash Sutton was crowned the 2017 BTCC champion after Collard's team-mate Colin Turkington was forced to retire from the final race with damage.

The 2018 season is due to start at the Brands Hatch Indy circuit on April 8.

Six of the best for Hartley Wintney as they thrash Arlesey

HARTLEY Wintney continued their strong start to the Evo-Stik South Division One East season with a 6-1 thrashing of Arlesey Town on Saturday afternoon.

They are level on 21 points with Moneyfields at the top of the division, with a game in hand over their Portsmouth-based rivals.

Arlesey had taken the lead in Saturday's match, but the Row weren't behind for long as Sam Argent scored from the penalty spot.

Two minutes later they were in front as the Arlesey defence couldn't clear the ball away, allowing Jake Baxter to fire home from 10 yards.

The third came shortly before half-time, with Paul Hodges setting up James Tennant to score from the edge of the box.

Goal number four came on 54 minutes as Liam Eagle headed in from a corner, before Argent added another soon after.

And Hodges completed the rout as he scored from 18 yards out, after a lovely passing display from Hartley.

Following on from that big win, Hartley were due to play Farnborough in the first round of the Bigfreebet.com Challenge Cup last night as the Observer went to press.

Win for Calleva

FOOTBALL: Tadley Calleva have stayed in touch with the Wessex League Division One leaders after winning 2-0 against Verwood Town on Saturday.

They are third in the table, three points behind Laverstock & Ford but with two games in hand.

However Whitchurch United fell to a 1-0 defeat against fellow strugglers Fawley.

Another big defeat

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC's season isn't showing any signs of improving after they were beaten 93-0 away to Old Cranleighans on Saturday.

Unsurprisingly 'Stoke are bottom of the London 3 South West table, having accumulated a points difference of -223 from their first four games. The next worst is 10th-placed Warlingham on -36.

Basingstoke host Battersea Ironsides in their next game this Saturday.

Loss to leaders

FOOTBALL: It was a tough afternoon for Basingstoke Ladies as they lost 5-1 to league leaders Plymouth Argyle Ladies on Sunday.

Katie Randell had given Basingstoke the lead after five minutes, but four goals from Natasha Knapman and another from Zoe Cunningham ended their hopes.

Basingstoke are 10th in the South West Division 1 table with two points. Their next match is away at FC Chippenham in the Women's FA Cup this Sunday.

Hogan misses out

DARTS: Basingstoke darts ace Paul Hogan has missed out on a spot at January's BDO World Darts Championship.

'Crocodile Dundee' was competing at the qualifying event in Bridlington last week and had knocked out two-time champion Ted Hankey, but came unstuck against Dutch player Toon Greebe.

Hogan produced a memorable run at the 2017 world championship, going 3-0 up against eventual champion Glen Durrant before losing 4-3.

Dragons leave it late to put a stop to losing run

By Adam Flinn

THREE late goals saw Basingstoke Town end their run of three consecutive defeats with a 3-0 win over Redditch United at the Camrose on Saturday.

All three goals came in the final 15 minutes of the match, which saw a delay early on in the first half after the referee was forced off with a hamstring injury.

It means the Dragons have moved back up to 11th in the Southern Premier League table with 15 points.

They then followed that up with a 6-2 win away at Fleet Town in the first round of the Bigfreebet.com Challenge Cup on Tuesday night.

Saturday's fixture at the Camrose came after a run of three away games in a row for Basingstoke, all of which they had narrowly lost.

It looked as though it might be another tough afternoon for the Dragons as Redditch made the stronger start, with Dior Angus forcing Colm McAdden into an early save.

Spencer Weir-Daley then headed over from close range.

The game was then brought to a halt after referee Iain Parsons suffered a hamstring injury, leading to a member of the crowd taking to the field as a replacement.

After a 15-minute delay the game restarted and was fairly quiet until the half-time whistle, with Basingstoke's best chance coming as Jack McKnight failed to convert Sam Smart's cross.

The home side were beginning to look more dominant following the break, with Dan Bayliss going close twice and Shane Hollamby hitting the inside of the post with a header.

With 75 minutes on the clock the deadlock was finally broken as Smart was brought down by Gui Mailancol in the box, and Ben Wright converted the subsequent penalty.

Three minutes later it was 2-0 as Marcus Johnson-Schuster launched an unstoppable strike into the top left corner for a magnificent goal.

And the scoreline was completed soon afterwards as Callum Bunting – making his debut for Basingstoke – collected Smart's cross before firing over Redditch keeper Ethan Ross.

Tuesday's game saw plenty of goals at Fleet, as Basingstoke booked their place in the second round with Bunting getting a hat-trick in just his second game for the club.

Wright scored twice while Dan Collier got the other.
